LUMIN42 · CLAWBITAI

Online booking for your garage, answered in seconds.

An AI booking chat on your website takes MOT, service and repair requests day and night, and emails them to you with everything you need to call the customer back.

The problem it solves

- Calls go unanswered when everyone is in the workshop, and many callers ring the next garage instead of leaving a message.
- Drivers book in the evening. When they remember their MOT at 9pm, a website with no way to book loses them.
- The same questions all day: "How much is an MOT?", "Are you open Saturday?" The chat answers from your own facts.

What it does

It	How
Takes booking requests	Service needed, registration, car, preferred day, name, mobile and email
Answers common questions	Only from the services, hours and prices you approve. Never diagnoses faults or invents prices
Keeps drivers safe	Brake, steering or smoke problems: tells them not to drive and to call you
Emails you instantly	Every request lands in your inbox; you confirm the slot with the customer
Confirms to the customer	They get an email saying it's a request and you'll be in touch

Getting it live

1. 15-minute call: your services, hours, prices and where bookings should go.
2. We set it up and you test it yourself.
3. Add one line to your website (WordPress, Wix, Squarespace and others), or use your own booking link on Google and Facebook if you have no website.

Offer

14 days free, then £97/month for the booking chat. No setup fee. No card needed for the trial. Add phone answering later if you want it.

Try it now

Book a pretend MOT at lumin42.com/garages
Start your trial: lumin42.com/book-a-call.html

The honest bit: ClawbitAI is new and no garage is using it yet, so you would be one of the first and I set it up personally. The chat takes booking requests; you confirm the actual time. Matthew Creighton, lumin42 · lumin42.com